To Whom It May Concern:

Joseph Bagnara is one of my lecturers for a pre-vocational course in Building, Construction and Furnishing at TAFE. I have to say that he is an excellent lecturer. He gives us way more than could ever been included in a text book and his years of industry experience are an invaluable source of information.

He interacts really well with all of the students and is willing to spend time with those who are struggling to achieve. His friendly manner makes him approachable and I feel confident to undertake the tasks expected of me with his clear and detailed instructions.

As a mature aged student looking to change careers, I find Joseph's obvious passion for the industry helps me to stay focussed. The fact that he knows a whole lot of stuff about many different aspects has led me to believe there is more than one door open for me, or any of my class mates, as we undertake my beginning steps into building and construction.

Sincerely
